

40%

40% of the people receiving caregiving from family caregivers are people with disabilities.

40%

Family caregivers spend an average of 57 hours per week providing care for a family member with a disability.

29%

29% or 29,000 homecare workers are already in BadgerCare.

8,000

8,000 more care workers would be able to have BadgerCare health insurance, helping to increase direct care worker retention.

138%

Increasing the amount a home care worker can earn to 138% Federal Poverty Level will allow them to provide more hours of caregiving to Family Care and IRIS participants.

$4,800

Increasing the income threshold to 138% Federal Poverty Level means single workers can earn almost $4800 more and work up to 457 more hours annually (or an extra shift per week).